and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has any thing won so widely and so deeply upon the condidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has tisen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to care the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of discuss and to young children, it is at the same time the most effection remedy that can be given for includent consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provirou against sudien attacks of Crarp, it should be kept on hand in every finally, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidate for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the meet obstinate of them, yield to it. When nothing elected they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often whelly cured by it.

Asthma is aways to be cared by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses. So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.
